NORWAY AND VICINITY.

Struck By Lightning. In the heavy shower of Monday afternoon lightning struck a tree in the yard at George Grover's at Norway Center, and also entered the kitchen, striking Mr. Grover, who was near the sink. He did not fall but grabbed hold of the sink for support. Members of the family relieved him as much as possible and summoned two physicians from the village.

Mr. Grover did not entirely lose consciousness although he was paralyzed quite badly for a while. He was soon in a comfortable condition and is now up and about the house.

Boy Breaks His Arm. Phillip E. Foss, the ten year old son of C. E. Foss at Steep Falls broke his left arm at the elbow, Monday, by falling from a swing. He started to jump from the swing and caught his foot. The arm was broken at the same place about four years ago by the boy falling from a cart in which he was being hauled. It was feared at first that the injury would result in a stiff arm but it is getting along so well that it is thought that it will come out all right.

Ball Game.

Rubber Game Between the Radcliffes and the Oxforas Not Played Out.

What promised to be a very interesting game of base ball, on the Fair Grounds, Saturday afternoon, terminated suddenly at the beginning of the second inning when Pierce of the locals and Lanigan of the Oxforas became involved in a wordy and fistie argument—or just a plain fight.

The affair started when Lanigan, the first up in the second inning was awarded his base on being hit by a pitched ball. Argument as to whether Lanigan struck at the ball or not, or whether the ball hit the bat or his arm ended when Lanigan is alleged to have called Pierce a couple of insulting names and was followed by blows, Lanigan being apparently the aggressor. Lanigan's shoulder was dislocated and he had a cut over the eye and was put in charge of a local doctor.

The umpire refused to put Pierce out of the game and the Oxford management refused to play unless he was taken out. The spectators were given rain checks.

"Rain Checks" Accepted.

Saturday there will be a ball game between the Oxforas and Radcliffes on the Fair Grounds at 3 o'clock. The "rain checks" will be accepted at this game. This will give a chance to see the finish of last Saturday's game.

A closely contested game is expected. The Oxford contingent is determined to win the game and the Radcliffes management is taking steps to put a strong team into the field. All indications point to the most exciting game of the season. Oxford is to bring up a large number of rooters and a large number of Norway baseball enthusiasts will be on hand to back their team to the limit.

Bowdoin's Head Coach.

Alfred L. Lafarriere of Norway, Bowdoin '01, will go to Bowdoin college in the fall to coach the football team. He will be head coach. Mr. Lafarriere, who has been teaching at Hebron Academy since he graduated from Bowdoin, has given up his position to become the Bowdoin coach.

The Harvard Girl.

The new college musical comedy, The Harvard Girl, has been booked at the Norway Opera House, Tuesday evening, Aug. 14th, and one of the largest houses of the season can be safely expected, as usual the chorus is large and the comedy carries many of the best comedians now on the stage. There are loads of beautiful scenery, and the show girls are what are called "American Beauties." See adv. of page 8.

Some Old Vehicles.

G. H. Bennett has an odd combination of vehicles at his paint shop. Besides the ordinary run of carriages and wagons he has the rural free delivery wagon that is used on route two, and the hearse that belongs to the cemetery association for painting. He is also going to paint the automobile belonging to Walter Priddy. This was the first auto owned in the town and is the first one to be painted here.

The Cottage Studio is being re-sold.

Etta Noyes went Wednesday to Poland Camp Grounds for the remainder of the month.

Julia E. Hathaway of Portland is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Hathaway at Twin Island, Lake Penesseewassee.

Bennie Cobb, C. Elwell Brooks and O. S. Stone and family went to Poland Camp Grounds Tuesday, to remain several days.

Maud Bennett has moved from the house on Beal street recently purchased by Dan Joslyn, to the Stephen Hatch rent on Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Smith and two daughters, Elsie and Eleanor, returned from a few weeks' visit at Mrs. Smith's home in Richmond, Tuesday.

Judge and Mrs. A. E. Morrison and son, Freeland, of Rumford Falls are at Cedar Lodge, by the lake, Mr. and Mrs. Freeland Howe, Jr. are also at the Lodge.

Rev. C. A. Brooks, pastor of the Methodist church, baptized five people at the river and one at the church last Sabbath, also received five new members into the church.

Rev. B. S. Ridout and family returned Wednesday from several days' outing at Camp Deerfield at Albany. They will start this Friday for a visit at Mr. Rideout's home in Garland.

Mrs. June Hutchins of Exeter, N. H., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. C. Leavitt, who has been visiting her three weeks, and Bertha Mann, who has also been visiting her, came with her.

Several of the ladies at S. B. & Z. S. Prince's took a carriage drive to Mount Mica, Friday afternoon. They were Mrs. Z. S. Prince, Marjorie Chapman, Mrs. Alice Harriman, Mrs. Hiram Libby, Mrs. Lura Norwell, Fannie Hay, Clara Connor and Mrs. Stevens.

Robert Libby has a garden that will without doubt take first prize. He has had cucumbers, radishes and other vegetables for some time. His garden is 8 feet and 4 inches deep and measures 26 inches round. His garden is well kept and he is reaping the rewards of his labor. If there is anyone that can beat this we want to hear from them.

Mrs. Helen Crocker is in Norway for a few days. She has been with her daughter, Mrs. A. T. Emery of Locke's Mills, and the last of the week will go to her brother's, J. W. Atherton's, who lives on her father's old home place, Temple Hill in Norway. This place is situated in a most sightly place. The view for miles around is in plain view, and the mountains in the distance are grand.

William Clinton Mills.

Mr. Mills was the youngest of a family of seven children and was born, Sept. 23, 1842, the son of Andrew and Olive (Stevens) Mills. For years he and his mother lived on the home farm, in the large, old fashioned, two story house. After his mother's death his oldest sister, Mrs. Myranda Sawyer, was his housekeeper till her death last winter. Mr. Mills was seriously sick with the grip at the time of the death of his sister and his life was despaired of at that time, but he rallied and has since been confined to the house and required constant care. The Thurston family, who live in the house, and others have cared for him.

Mr. Mills attended the Methodist church in the village. When a young man he had strong religious convictions, and held meetings very acceptably at different places in the rural districts.

The funeral will be from the house at 2 o'clock, Sunday afternoon.

We are interested in that Flag.

The Colors of the Regiment—the 13th Maine Volunteers—will be in line in Lewiston on August 20th, when the regiment meets in reunion in that city. The State-banner was presented to the regiment at New York by the Sons and Daughters of Maine in '02, when they marched by Col. Harry Rust of Norway, until he died, when they were presented to the Regimental Association. These colors are kept in Bowdoin Post hall, Portland, but this year they are to see the sunlight of an August day with the boys gathered around them. They are tattered and worn, riddled by shot and shell, but they will make a brave show in the line and will no doubt start the tear in every eye as they pass down the streets.

Born on "Jim Hill."

Wm. F. Hill of Aenola, Iowa, who has been visiting his sister, Hannah Hill and other relatives, will return to his home the last of this week. Mr. Hill was born on Jim Hill mountain, his father being one of the first settlers in this section. They belonged to the class called squatters and camped about in different places, their chief occupation being hunting and fishing. Mr. Hill has been in the west for many years and is a very successful farmer.

F. H. Noyes has been confined to the house a few days, this week, by sickness.

W. C. Cummings of North Buckfield was a recent guest at Llewellyn Jordan's.

Charles F. Ridlon's grocer's delivery wagon has a new carriage awning over the seat.

Lester Ashton, clerk at the Noyes Drug Store, is spending his vacation at his home in Auburn.

Mrs. Arthur Hubbard and son, Don, are spending a few weeks at Hotel Western, Old Orchard.

A. S. Crockett, who has been employed at Waterville the past 15 months, has returned to Robert Libby's.

Mrs. W. S. Partridge and son Donald, who have been visiting relatives in East Auburn, returned home, Monday.

Hortense Gregg has resigned her position as librarian of the Norway public library, to take effect, October 1st.

C. L. Leighton and general manager, Abbott of the Maine Telephone company, were in Norway, Friday, on business.

Calvin Kneeland, who has had charge of the Foster & McIntire lumber business in Byron, was in Norway, this week.

Mrs. Llewellyn Jordan visited at A. W. Spaulding's at North Buckfield the past two weeks, instead of at Windham as stated last week.

"Weary Willie Walker" entertained a good sized audience at the Opera house Saturday evening. The entire performance is very amusing and the parts well acted.

Mrs. H. W. Lovejoy and daughter, Hazel, of Passaic, N. J. is visiting Mrs. Lovejoy's brother, S. Harriman. They are to remain in this vicinity during the month and will visit at Waterville, Bridgton and Harrison.

Mabel Hescock of Phillips was in Norway the past week at the Taylor cottage, the guest of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Goudy. Dr. E. A. Sheehy was also a member of the party. Miss Hescock has been spending the summer at her father's cottage at the Rangeleys.

Rennell C. Bicknell brought into the office, this week, a small bush not over a foot long that was covered with caterpillars of the black colored variety. We did not count the nasty looking crawling things, but should judge their number more than a hundred.

It is serious when the sparker does not work on an automobile. It is the vital spark. It took about a third of the male population of the village besides the experts several hours to get the thing running. The machine was taken suddenly sick on Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred I. Crockett with their granddaughter, have been visiting her mother, Mrs. C. A. Ballard, who has been sick the past two years. Mrs. Crockett went to Yarmouth Saturday, to visit her sister, Mrs. John Crockett, a few days, before returning home to Rochester, N. H.

The boys of Company D left Monday for the annual encampment. They assembled at Harvard's crossing just below Brunswick, and marched in August to the officers in charge are Capt. John W. Nash; 1st Lieut. James M. Palmer; 2d Lieut. Moses P. Stiles. The soldiers felt the heat, and the dusty roads made a hard march for them.

Norway Village School Teachers.

At a meeting of the school committee, Tuesday evening, the following teachers were elected:

High School, principal F. E. Hathaway, South Paris.
High School, sub-master, Henry P. Boody, Brooks.

" seven, Sue M. Wheeler, South Paris.
" six, Edith S. Harlow, Gorham.

" four, Irene F. Hazen, Norway.
" three, Elizabeth O. Lasselle, Norway.
" two, Annie M. Jones, South Paris.

Arts and Crafts, Miss Hazen, Norway.
Middle primary, Gertrude Gardner, Norway.
Lower primary, Elizabeth O. Lasselle, Norway.

Upper " Annie M. Jones, South Paris.

Mr. Brooks, the new sub-master, is a graduate of Coburn Classical Institute, 1901; of Bowdoin, 1906. He has had two years experience in teaching as principal of a high school.

Miss Blackwood is a graduate of Westbrook high school, 1902; of Bates, 1906. She has taught in the Norway rural schools and last year supplied in the high school for Miss Bicknell.

Miss Hazen, Miss Shank and Miss Bradford are graduates of Farmington Normal School. Miss Bradford is an experienced teacher and her work is highly commended. Miss Shank graduated as valedictorian of her class in the Norway high school, and has taught in Farmington Normal School. Miss Hazen has taught in our rural schools.

The village schools begin Monday, the September 10. Term eleven weeks.

Friends Want to Know.

Please send the names of your summer guests and whatever may be of interest about them to the ADVERTISER. We like to know that our old friends with us even if we can't see them all. Let all their friends know they are here.

Rev. H. K. Garnier went to Portland, Tuesday.

Marion Gibson went to Auburn, Wednesday, to visit Mrs. Simon Snow.

Mrs. Lucy Cushing of Mason is visiting her daughter, Mrs. A. H. Kenerson.

Rev. C. A. Brooks will preach at the North Chapel again next Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Mary Bennett and daughter, Grace, are visiting friends and relatives in Lewiston and Turner.

Fred Royce on Fore street is now dining on sweet corn from his garden. It is well filled and in prime condition for eating.

F. P. Kimball has bought the house known as the Kelley house on Paris street in which he has lived for the past five years.

F. A. Kimball and wife of Portland, and Florence and Ella Gouley of Philadelphia, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Cummings.

The ladies of the Universalist circle are requested to meet at the home of Della M. Noyes this Friday evening for important business.

Fred Brown of Portland, a former clerk at Thomas Smiley's was at the store Saturday, helping out as some of the clerks are on a vacation.

The teams, that drive to the head of Main street, turn around and come back and go across by Bridge street because the bridge is up and they can't cross over to Water street, are legion.

Those musical toy balloons, the collapsible kind that they blow up, the ones that hold the gas, are in the land. Generally we are spared this infliction till the fakir comes with his supply at Fair time. This toy has one good quality. It's life is short.

A party of young people enjoyed a picnic trip to Peaks Island, Sunday. A picnic dinner was served at the Basins. Those who made up the party were Mr. and Mrs. John Shepard, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Leavitt, Helen Holmes, Emma Abbott, Alice Abbott, Walter Cullinan, William Abbott, Allie Buck and Dr. Thor. Heard.

Gertie Harndon, bookkeeper in the stitching room was overcome by the heat Monday afternoon, and remained unconscious for about an hour. A local physician was called and he and Miss Harndon's assistant, Iva McArdle accompanied her to her home in South Paris. She recovered and returned to her work the next afternoon.

Mrs. H. P. Jones has been seriously sick for the past month. She is now better and she and the doctor will resume life at their cottage by the lake, this week. They went to their cottage, June the 30th, for the summer, but because of Mrs. Jones' illness were obliged to return to the village. A trained nurse cared for her for a long time.

Sunday was observed by Norway Lodge No. 1, O. C. F., as memorial day. The members of the order visited Pine Grove and Rustfield cemeteries for the purpose of decorating the graves of deceased members. The march was led by the band from the hall in the afternoon under Marshal A. L. Pike. This is done annually and is known as memorial Sunday.

W. L. Merrill, who has purchased the old studio on Deering street formerly occupied by Miss Libby, will move the addition which he built to the building where he now is to the new place. Work has already been begun on the building, which will be repaired and finished up so that when completed Mr. Merrill will have one of the best of studios.

The Hansells gave a musical entertainment at Central Park, Wednesday evening, to a crowd. The program consisted of duets, trios, whistling solos and songs. G. Leslie Waterman, the humorous and dramatic impersonator who is with the company, was unable to be present on account of the death of his father. For this reason Mr. Hansell secured Al. Morse of South Paris, who entertained with selections that always please.

Sherman E. Pike's Moving Pictures.

Sherman's moving pictures are drawing large crowds at the Opera House this week. Each evening a larger number attend than on the previous evening. This is due to the fact that the exhibition is far above the ordinary moving picture show.

Manager Pike, who is a former Norway boy, uses an electrograph which was made under his own supervision and by plans designed by himself. It is very much superior to any other machine. One of the most important features of the machine is the absence of any flicker which makes the pictures shown by other machines so tiresome to the eyes.

The pictures are new and interesting subjects. Among those already shown are "The Tragedy of Sea," showing a ship starting from port, the wreck and how the people are saved. "The Revolution in Russia" is an interesting series.

The illustrated songs are excellent and include "She Was to be a Soldier's Bride," "Sister" and "When the Whip-poorwill Sings, Margarite."

Each night new pictures are shown, none being repeated. The exhibition has been here each evening this week, and will be here this Thursday and Friday evenings.

Lizzie M. Johnson has accepted the position as librarian at the Norway Public Library.

Mr. and Mrs. James Finney of Auburn visited Mr. Finney's mother, Mrs. B. F. Bradbury this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Moore, with Mrs. Moore's parents, and Miss Gertrude Gardner are spending two weeks at William C. Leavitt's cottage on the lake.

In the hospital corps which is at Augusta with the soldier boys for the benefit of field practice, are William C. Horne, deputy sheriff Frank DeCoster, Vivian Akers, Verne Rich, Harry Packard and Frank Buswell, all of Norway. The corps is in charge of Dr. H. E. Farris, who is assisted by Maj. Dr. B. F. Bradbury, of Norway.

Burglars at Station.

There was a sound at the windows of the railroad station about 2 o'clock, Saturday morning, which made the night operator, Mr. Titus, sit up and take notice. Evidently someone was trying to get in. On inquiring what was wanted he was informed by someone that they wanted to get into the station. Titus ordered them to get out and received the reply that if he did not let them in they would blow his head off. Titus, not liking the situation, slipped out the door on the other side of the office and went down town after Police Officer Bennett. When they returned there were no men to be found. A thorough search was made but they failed to find any trace of them. After it was light enough to see the tracks of three men were found, leading from the station out Pleasant street to the end of Pine street near A. M. Yates', thence in on Pine street to the railroad crossing. Here they then went down the railroad track where their tracks wouldn't show.

County Commissioners Meet.

The County Commissioners were in session at the court house Monday. The only road petition that has been before them this year was presented. Wm. H. Porter and others a petition for grading hills and widening way in Roxbury and Mexico. Hearing was appointed at the residence of Wm. H. Porter in Roxbury, Sept. 10 at 10 o'clock.

The commissioners authorized the building of a new fence around the court house grounds. This will improve the appearance of the

REACH THE SPOT.

To cure an aching back, The pains of rheumatism, The tired-out feelings, You must reach the spot—get at the cause.

In most cases 'tis the kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys.

Charles Bierbach, stone contractor, living at 2825 Chestnut St., Erie, Pa., says: "For two years I had kidney trouble, and there was such a severe pain through my joints and limbs that I could not stoop or straighten up without great pain, had difficulty in getting about and was unable to rest at night, arising in the morning tired and worn out. The kidney secretions were irregular and deposited a heavy sediment. Doctors treated me for rheumatism, but failed to help me. I lost all confidence in medicine, but Doan's Kidney Pills relieved me so quickly and so thoroughly that I gladly made statement to that effect for publication. This was in 1898, and during the six years which have elapsed I have never known Doan's Kidney Pills to fail."

A FREE TRIAL of this great kidney medicine which cured Mr. Bierbach will be mailed on application to any part of the United States. Address Foster-McBarn Co., Buffalo, N. Y. For sale by all druggists; price, 50 cents per box.

Maine's Attractions.

From a Paper before the Pine Tree Club, To the lovers of natural scenery, Maine with her fifteen hundred extended lakes and ponds, her forests, mountains and sea coast, offers an endless variety of charms. From the farm extended lakes of the south, to mountain walls and forest belted waters of the north, the scenery is in reality what it has been termed by visitors, panoramic.

There are many charming little country towns, whose air breathes peace and contentment and whose surroundings are beautiful enough to attract a stranger seeking for change. Beneath the shade of elms and maples, life has a charm and repose which is an attraction peculiar to the spot. One writer in his book of these retreats says: "Into these quiet country homes, where every summer scores of visitors seek for health, their annual coming adding brightness and variety to village life and putting many welcome dollars into the pockets of the thrifty people. These summer resorts are situated on the shore of some attractive lake, cool winding river, or upon the hilltop, but wherever situated, they become more and more each year the home of summer pleasure."

It is said that a city family with one or two grown daughters need not stay more than a week at a farm house before a change is noticed. The grass in the front doorway is clipped. The front fence is repaired and the electric light removed. Mosses under the eaves are pulled and in a little while bright hammocks are hung beneath the trees, the two seated wagon receives a coat of shiny paint, the horses are better groomed, weeds and bushes along the highway are cut down, the leaves are working well and will be felt throughout the neighborhood long after these unconscious missionaries have returned to their city homes.

We were at South Waterford and I did not think to find a summer resort there, although I knew the interior of the town offered many attractions to the tourists. I learned that some of the Portland wealthy citizens spent their entire vacations there. It was a dreary time of year made more dreary by mud, but I could well understand with its groves and ponds what a quiet, restful place it must be for those who enjoy rural country life. One natural curiosity there is a creek that forms one side of Bear Mountain. The creek was said to be eight feet across at the last measurement, and growing wider each year by reason of cleaving away of particles of the rock. There is no one in town old enough to know when the crevice was not there although many recollect when it was much narrower than it is at the present time.

One of the most fashionable and also one of the greatest of all health resorts in New England is Poland Spring. The Poland Spring house is one of the largest of its class in New England, and its conditions and improvements are being made almost every year. It is on a high plateau and commands a fine view of the surrounding country, including the White Mountains. The electric light that now gleam from its tower, can be seen for many miles away. The proprietors have shown excellent taste in allowing so much of their possessions to remain in such a state of nature. The dark tangled woods are far more pleasing to the professional or overworked business man or city invalid than all the treasures of art. It is estimated that over 10,000,000 feet of Maine pine remain standing on the estate, and had been asked to become principal of the Ludlow V. T. high school.

Reginald Robinson, Charlotte Walker, Richard Pye, Mary A. Bryant of Portland, Mr. and Mrs. Leland Stone, P. McAllister and Ida Stone were entertained by Mrs. Nina Stone at her father's, Mr. P. Wardwell's, in honor of her friend, Charlotte Walker.

rooms. The art gallery on the top floor is certainly an exhibit of special interest and merit. The building is located in the grove and is indeed a testimonial to the artistic and artistic taste of the citizens of the Pine Tree State.

The Mansion House, which was the original old stage tavern, has received many additions, but the low ceiling, a quaint finish in the office and old hallways, and the numerous pictures and memorials of past memories and as a mark of respect to the parent whose dreams of success were realized, for the work which they began many years ago now carried on by their children.

The house is a large building, presenting a busy scene. Men are at work day and night to supply the demand for the beverage and the fame of the wonderful healing properties of the water is carried in all parts of the world. The hotel is a large building, through the rooms of the house, and we can imagine what quantities must be provided for home use. Amusements of all sorts are provided. One can play golf, croquet, and tennis grounds. There are indoor and outdoor sports of the day, and sacred concerts on Sunday. Week day evenings the hop is the occasion where youth, beauty and serene old age unite in innocent and social pleasures.

One of the best farms of 600 acres or less, belonging to a family of Shakers, was added to the estate. This included a large granite building costing over $20,000. One writer says, "The little Shaker boy, who was playing about the Shaker farm, admitted that the little beauty, little thought that a few decades hence they would own what was then considered one of the most valuable estates in that section of Maine."

There are many other farms, having died off the place because of the rule, but will no doubt be restored to its original value by its present owners. The writer further says, "This is used as a stock farm, and 100 Jersey cows

Democratic Candidate for Representative Nominated.

At the recent caucus held by the Democrats of the district composed of Newry, Bethel, Andover, Hanover, Grafton, Mason, Gilead, Byron, Roxbury and Magalloway Plantation, M. L. Thurston of Newry, was unanimously nominated their candidate for representative to the next legislature.

In their choice of Mr. Thurston, the Democrats have secured a man well fitted for the position. He needs no introduction to the voters of these towns for he is well known in this section as a man who possesses many qualifications desirable in our representative to the legislature.

He is a man who is interested in public affairs, as is shown by his active part in the politics of his own town since he has, for several years, acted as one of the selectmen in the town in which he lives. Mr. Thurston is a man of good business ability, as evidenced by his business career. He is the senior member of the firm of M. L. & C. Thurston, who have done a large and successful business in lumbering for the past fifteen years and given employment to a large number of men. The reputation of the firm for honesty and square dealing is of the best.

Then, finally, Mr. Thurston is a strong temperance man in "preaching and practice." To lay aside the moral aspect of the question, he, as an employer, realizes to a marked degree, the detriment from the sale of liquors. In short, the Democratic nominee for representative is a man eminently fitted for the place.

Congressman Littlefield will speak Monday afternoon at Hiram, evening at Fryeburg; Tuesday afternoon at North Waterford, evening at Bethel; Wednesday afternoon at Bryant's Pond, evening at Oxford; Thursday afternoon at Hanover, evening at Andover.

Maine will compete in the rifle tournament of the National Board at Seagirt, Aug. 27, Sept. 8.

BETHEL.

Assessor's Report.

The report of the assessors of Bethel to the State board of the taxable property in Bethel, April 1, 1906, shows that there is an increase over last year of some $55,000 on the same basis of valuation. The total of real estate is $601,750 for 1906, and the total valuation for 1906 is $815,854. The increase is due to several reasons. There was considerable building in Bethel last year, and some $12,000 of the stock of the Bethel National Bank held by Bethel tax payers was not paid in until after April 1, 1906. More money at interest was taxed this year and there was a general increase in live stock owned in town and in the stock in trade of Bethel's business men. The tax rate is about 18 mills and the town debt is being decreased each year.

Judge Percival Bonney Dead.

Judge Percival Bonney, who has since 1878 been a judge of the Superior court, died suddenly, Saturday evening at the home of E. S. Head in Denmark, where he was passing the summer. He had been in ill health for some time, and of late had been failing, but was able to be out of doors and dropped dead while walking a short distance from the house. Judge Bonney had not been well for some time, and just before the close of the May term of court he was stricken with a paralytic shock, his condition for a few days being serious.

In a short time Judge Bonney's condition began to improve rapidly and he was soon able to walk out. He went to Denmark, where he has spent his summer for a number of years.

Judge Bonney was born in Minot, Sept. 24, 1842, and was the son of William Bonney.

He graduated from Hebron and entered Colby in 1859, graduating in 1863.

A Real Lord.

Lord Sholto George Douglass, a real English lord who is spending the summer at a cottage at Sebago lake, arrest and detention for another man has become an international affair. The demand for apologies comes from no less important a source than the English consulate. If the apologies are not speedily forthcoming, the subject of the treatment of his lordship while he was in custody may become a matter of international inquiry.

A Portland detective was requested by the police of Ashville, N. C., to arrest a man who rented a cottage on the shore of Sebago lake, instead of having in custody an American family known as "Lord Douglass" and other names, and who is wanted by the authorities of many states, as was at first supposed, the Portland police, it is thought, have detained Lord Sholto Douglass, third son of the late Marquis of Queensbury, who has resided in Bakerfield, Cal.

RUMFORD FALLS.

From Sunday afternoon until Tuesday evening without food, is the starvation regard of Mrs. McLeod and her five children who reside over Cobb's billiard room in Virginia.

On Friday night Board of Health Officer George W. Taylor quarantined the McLeod home on account of diphtheria. At that time Mrs. McLeod said that she had no food to possibly last until Sunday morning. She gave Mr. Taylor a list of what she needed and Mr. Taylor at once presented the list to the selectmen, who promised to send some supplies at once.

Nothing was received until 6:30 Tuesday night, when the entire family was in a state of starvation. Neither was there a light in the home because of the lack of kerosene.

Curnell Bros' coal sheds were destroyed by fire Sunday night. Loss $1,000.

A plan is being formulated to ask the United States government to erect a post office building here.

Jas. Kerr has his new concrete building block machine in operation where he is moulding blocks that closely resemble stone and are much cheaper than bricks for building.

The International Paper Co. recently made a proposition to all their employees with a view of bringing about the three tower system a day; that is, eight hours instead of the present two tower system, and the proposition was accepted.

The long needed repair of the steep pitch in the street back of the Chisholm school is now being made. A crew of Italians are at work with picks and shovels and the hill will be cut down several feet. Other improvements are being made on Hancock street. Crushed rock is being put on, which will make as fine a street as there is in town.

The Light & Water Co. has completed the meter reading for July, and the result is interesting. The average price comes to $1.00 and many are paying this amount who formerly used from $10 to $20 worth. As the old flat rate average was $1.75 a month, it will be seen that there is a general saving to the users of 75 cents per month.

A Buckfield Man Honored.

A distinguished honor has just fallen to a Maine man, Dr. Hermon Carey Bumpus, the director of the American museum of natural history in New York city, who has just been elected president of the American association of museums. At the age of only 44 years he has won high reputation and distinction as a scientist, teacher and lecturer.

He is a native of Buckfield where he was born in 1862. When at Bowdoin Dr. Bumpus was a favorite scholar of the late Alpheus Spring Packard, and later was a teacher in several western colleges and director of the biological laboratory of the United States fish commission at Wood's Hall, Mass. Dr. Bumpus resides most happily at Rochelle Park, New Rochelle, N. Y., with his wife and two sons.

Henry H. Adams.

Henry H. Adams died at his home in Richmond, Thursday, July 26th, at the age of 66 years, 7 months and 7 days.

Mr. Adams was the son of Eliphalet Adams and Mary Peabody, and was born in Gilead. On reaching manhood he learned telegraphy and worked for a time for the Grand Trunk railway, occupying a position with the Maine Central railroad in 1871. In 1881 he was appointed agent at Richmond, which position he held up to the time of his death.

Mr. Adams is survived by his wife and one son, Derwood C. Adams, proprietor of the Pearl-street pharmacy in Portland. Also by two brothers, Thomas A. Adams of this place and Edward P. Adams of Rutherford, Cal.

He'd put his arm around her waist -
He'd lead her to his shoulder -
I turned away - 'twas better late -
They won't when both are older!

The summer meeting of the Maine Pomological society will be held on the campus of the University of Maine at Orono, Tuesday, Aug. 21st.

"To Arms! They Come."

By G. ROSELMUM.

Not the Greek as in old Bozaris' day, but a foe requiring as prompt, and as vigilant and unremitting resistance as any Greek or Turkish fighters we have read of. The stand taken by the Americans in regard to the brown-tail moth, cannot too highly be commended. It is hoped that the agitation will be kept up until something be done to check the spread of this pest and destroy those that are already hatched, or about to be hatched. The writer and his family, who were all badly poisoned and made critically ill in Lynn, last year, by the caterpillar "fuzz" of the brown-tail, have watched them grow more and more numerous, in and about the village, ever since the early spring. The decision of the selectmen not to spend any money without the authority of the town, in destroying this pest, would seem to indicate that they, the gentlemen referred to, have been fortunate enough to have been spared all knowledge and experience with the brown-tail moth.

To illustrate the pure cussedness of the critter, as Artemus Ward might have put it: in Lynn, last year at this time, I called to see a man who was stoning a cellar. As he was getting an extra heavy stone into place, I laid my pipe down on the wall and helped him for a moment. I then picked up my pipe and saw one of the tiny caterpillars crawling across the mouthpiece, I shook it off and brushing the stone with my finger, I put my pipe again in my mouth, but I can tell you I was sorry for it in less than a minute. My lips swelled almost instantly, to three times their normal size, the upper lip being swollen to such an extent as to prevent me from breathing through my nose at all. The agonizing burning and itching combined is simply indescribable. This is only one small instance.

At about the same time in Wyoma, a suburb of Lynn, a carpenter, whose name I have forgotten, died in great agony, from the poisonous pest, after suffering without relief for five days. Wherever the brown-tail has made its appearance, the women, getting a little babies have been the chief sufferers. I suppose this is due to two things, first because their skins are so much more tender than those of the men and boys, and second because of the more open character of their clothing in general.

I will give you one instance of the ravages of the pest, which you may easily verify by the records in Lynn. On a street leading from Great Woods Road, Lynn woods, called Lynfield street, there was a street of road which was lined on both sides with beautiful trees which overhung the roadway and in many cases the branches met and interlaced, forming an almost perfect arch of living green.

To be brief—when the caterpillars (I believe there is a scientific name for them when they first begin to crawl) came from the nests where the moths had laid their millions of eggs, this roadway was so completely covered with them that it was impossible to take even a step without crushing them by the hundred.

This strip of road (to crawl) came from the nests where the moths had laid their millions of eggs, this roadway was so completely covered with them that it was impossible to take even a step without crushing them by the hundred.

All of this and more occurred, yet the city had been fighting the pest for two years before the time I write of. Now, every tree belonging to, or under the control of, the city has a bark stripped loosely about it, and the pest is fast from the ground, and the moths seeking for a secluded, and warm place to deposit their eggs, fly up under the bark and are shaken out and killed, or worse.

In Haverhill during February, March and April, 1906, (that I know of) there were five gangs of men employed by the city to destroy moths and their nests.

It is not to be expected that a town the size of Norway can go into the matter of moth extermination quite so extensively as outlined above, but a little money judiciously expended now, as advocated by the ADVERTISER will obviate the necessity of spending the larger amounts during the year to come.

Now that the Lake road, thanks the well rewarded efforts of the ADVERTISER, is looking so well it would be a great pity to allow the moths to go on and strip the bark of the trees to come. I have no doubt that the pest is doing a great deal of damage to the city, and it is a pity that the city has not taken more prompt action.

When kerosene is used as a fire kindler, it is well to pour a pint or so into an old tin pail and stand as many corn-cobs in it as the pail will hold over night. The cobs will be thoroughly saturated by morning and are less dangerous to use.

For tea stains glycerin oil has the best effect of anything which can be applied to the most stubborn among the enemies of the housewife. Even this cannot be guaranteed to eradicate the stain that has been boiled in, but it acts like a charm in loosening up the discolored mark that has been allowed to set. The glycerin should be rubbed in the stain, which should then be well washed out in tepid water.

When a baking dish gets burnt in using, it should not be scraped; simply put a little water and ashes in it, and the burnt surface will come off easily without injuring the dish.

Many times when one is using fat near the stove, some may get on the floor. If cold water is poured on it as soon as it falls, it will harden and can then be taken up easily with a knife.

Wood alcohol will be a great help in cleaning, especially in cold weather. Moisten a sponge with the alcohol and rub the glass well, then polish with a dry cloth. There is no smudging and the glass takes a high polish. Wood alcohol is very cheap; it must never be forgotten, however, that it is a dangerous poison if taken internally.

The voice of the politician has not been heard in this section. Are both sides too dry to speak? Even the crops and the trees of the forests in this growth are crying "Starve, give us some pure water to quench our thirst."

The heavy shower last Sunday did some damage to the corn crop also apple trees. Thomas Jefferson had a large apple tree standing on the north side of his barn which the wind blew flat. The roots on one side were completely torn out. The tree was nearly or quite 18 inches through.

Your correspondent called on Marshall B. Stone last week and took a peep into his large barn. Mr. Stone will be about the same amount of hay as last year, nearly one hundred tons. Mr. Stone and son Frank have recently purchased an automobile. Frank especially enjoys the machine by taking all of his relatives to a ride and one lady whose name we have forgotten.

A minister who enjoys a good joke even though he is the victim, is telling a story to his friends concerning a recent experience which he had while taking a long tramp in the country. The day was hot and the minister, feeling thirsty, thought nothing would taste as good as a glass of cool milk to quench his thirst. And going up to the barn door, he happened and asked the woman of the house if he could have a glass of milk.

After he had relished two glasses, he pulled out some change from his pocket and offered to pay. "Oh, that's all right," answered the woman, "We make butter and give the skim milk to the hogs."

ITS MERIT IS PROVED

RECORD OF A GREAT MEDICINE

A Prominent Cincinnati Woman Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Completely Cured Her.

The great good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is doing among the women of America is attracting the attention of many of our leading scientists, and thinking people generally.

Mrs. Sara Wilson

The following letter is only one of many thousands which are on file in the Pinkham office, and go to prove beyond question that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound must be a remedy of great merit, otherwise it could not produce such marvelous results among sick and ailing women.

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:—

"About nine months ago I was a great sufferer with female trouble which caused me severe pain, extreme nervousness and frequent headaches, from which the doctor failed to relieve me. I tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and within a short time felt better, and after taking five bottles of it I was entirely cured. I therefore heartily recommend your Compound as a splendid female tonic. It makes the monthly periods regular and without pain; and what a blessing it is to find such a remedy after so many doctors fail to help you. I am pleased to recommend it to all suffering women."

Mrs. Sara Wilson, 81 East 34 Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

If you have suppressed or painful periods, weakness of the stomach, indigestion, bloating, pelvic catarrh, nervous prostration, dizziness, faintness, "don't-care" and "want-to-be-left-alone" feeling, excitability, backache or the blues, these are sure indications of female weakness, or some derangement of the organs. In such cases there is one tried and true remedy—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Practical Paragraphs.

Potatoes may be deliciously baked on an asbestos mat on top of the range. Cover them with a tin pan and give them an hour.

When earthenware has been burnt brown in cooking fruit or milk, or enamel pans or pie dishes are stained, or if silver spoons are stained with eggs, or cups with tea, damp and rub them with a little common salt. By this simple method all stains will disappear.

When kerosene is used as a fire kindler, it is well to pour a pint or so into an old tin pail and stand as many corn-cobs in it as the pail will hold over night. The cobs will be thoroughly saturated by morning and are less dangerous to use.

There is no smudging and the glass takes a high polish. Wood alcohol is very cheap; it must never be forgotten, however, that it is a dangerous poison if taken internally.

For tea stains glycerin oil has the best effect of anything which can be applied to the most stubborn among the enemies of the housewife. Even this cannot be guaranteed to eradicate the stain that has been boiled in, but it acts like a charm in loosening up the discolored mark that has been allowed to set. The glycerin should be rubbed in the stain, which should then be well washed out in tepid water.

When a baking dish gets burnt in using, it should not be scraped; simply put a little water and ashes in it, and the burnt surface will come off easily without injuring the dish.

Many times when one is using fat near the stove, some may get on the floor. If cold water is poured on it as soon as it falls, it will harden and can then be taken up easily with a knife.

Wood alcohol will be a great help in cleaning, especially in cold weather. Moisten a sponge with the alcohol and rub the glass well, then polish with a dry cloth. There is no smudging and the glass takes a high polish. Wood alcohol is very cheap; it must never be forgotten, however, that it is a dangerous poison if taken internally.
